CONSIDER RB TIMMAPUR CABINET BERTH AS SC LEFT ARE DECIDING FACTORS IN MANY CONSTITUENCIES IN KARNATAKA

By: M.S.Yatnatti: Editor and Video Journalist Bengaluru: Congress has leadership and Congress will bounce back with renewed vigor under the leadership of Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi . K R Venugopal AICC general secretary, in-charge of poll-bound Karnataka is appointed giving three point agenda spend more time in Karnataka forge unity in the party and retain power in Karnataka .In Karnataka Dalits are number one in population as reported in Media . Congress has power .In Karnataka SC left are deciding factors in many constituencies in Karnataka and reportedly CM and AICC Leaders requested to give Cabinet Berth to Sri RB Timmapur in Karnataka Cabinet headed by Siddaramaiah as state is going to general elections in 2018 and SC left are not given proportionate representation as given to SC left right.. AICC vice-president Rahul Gandhi described the dalits as reed ki haddi'' (spine of the Congress) and said they required the escape velocity of Jupiter'' (the speed that an object needs to be travelling to break free of a planet or moon's gravity)to achieve success.

Political dynamics changed in the Congress after a media leak on the caste census.The reports said dalits form the largest community in the state with 1.48 crore (Scheduled Castes 1.08 crore and Scheduled Tribes 40.45 lakh) and followed by Muslims (70 lakh), Lingayats (65 lakh), Vokkaligas (60 lakh), Kurubas (45 lakh) and other backward classes (95 lakh). The Congress has to either appoint a dalit or a candidate backed by Siddaramaiah, who enjoys the support of Muslims and backward classes, as the KPCC chief..Contrary to popular perception that there is mass migration from rural areas during drought, the government on Saturday said the state managed to stop the exodus this year with its flagship free rice programme.With nearly 1.08 crore below poverty line families being given 7 kgs of free rice per person every month under the Anna Bhagya programme, the desperation to move to cities to earn a decent meal has ended, according to CM Siddaramaiah and his cabinet colleagues."The state has been reeling under severe drought for the past three years and 164 taluks have been hit by drought this year. Yet, mass migration is not happening as the Anna Bhagya programme ensured that around 4 crore poor people can eat peacefully without worrying about food," Siddaramaiah said at the Janarige MananaJanarige Namana function.Describing it a successful programme that feeds 3.5 crore poor people in the state, law minister T B Jayachandra said Anna Bhagya should become a role model for other states in tackling drought.

The scheduled castes (SC) and tribes (ST) in Karnataka together constitute 23.5% and account for 18% reservation in government and educational sectors (15% for SCs and 3% for STs). But the reportedly SCs left are more in numbers as Right Hand (Holayats) and Left Hand(Madigas) are distinctly identified.There is no deficit of dalit leaders across political party lines in Karnataka with the Congress having a surfeit who are heavyweights. In the vertical divide among the dalits though the Left SCs population is more in Karnataka, they feel the Rights have cornered most benefits in jobs and education. Hence, even if a leader were to emerge the sub-identity of the Dalit comes to the forefront to suppress the individual.Discontent in 'left' group of SCs may cost congress dear in 2018 election if congress do not give proper representations to SC Left . Congress need to be in social media with full power. The spokespersons have to be selected carefully. Dynamic people with good presence of mind are required to tackle the questions of the media. The way they answer the questions largely determines the impact the party has on the general public.

"The 'left' group plays a decisive role in Bellary, Chitradurga, Raichur, Tumkur, Gulbarga, Bijapur and Bagalkot Parliamentary constituencies. What is wrong in fielding candidates from the group in three constituencies?" asks a political expert . "Considering the population, the Congress should have fielded candidates from the "left" group in at least 18 of the 36 Assembly constituencies. According to statistics made available by "left" group leaders, of the total population of 5.20 crore (2001 Census) in Karnataka, the SC's share is 1.20 crore. The Left group being identified as "Yedagai" forms major chunk with a population of 60 lakh (50 per cent), the "right" group, popularly known as "Balagai", has a population of 40 lakh (35 per cent). The remaining people of the community come under Lambani, Vadda and Korama communities of SC.

Congress need to give proportionate importance to all caste and creeds and Vokkaliga and Lingayat communities .Mr M.S. Rajsheshkar (Extreme Right) most popular congress face in Karnataka from Lingayat community who is since 1983 a active congress worker is doing hectic lobbying for chairman post for himself and recently in New Delhi meeting all AICC Leaders. Mr M.S. Rajsheshkar, most popular congress face in Karnataka from Lingayath community is in forefront of meeting Smt. Sonia Gandhiji, (AICC President) all AICC Members, KPCC President and our Hon'ble Chief minister of Karnataka Sri.Siddaramaiah and hopes that they all will give him opportunity to as he is young and senior leader among Lingayath Community .

Mr M.S. Rajsheshkar, most popular congress face in Karnataka from Lingayath community who is since 1983 as active congress worker held various party posts, worked as City General Secretary in DCC, Protocol and reception committee and worked as observer in Bellary Elections during 1999 in which Smt. Gandhi won the elections and Assisted Party leaders in Panchajanya Yaathra under leadership of Sri SM Kirishna and Sri Gulam Nabi Azad, Patron member of YMAC and life members of Sheshadripuram Educational Trust, Ex-Member of DRUCC Bangalore Railway Division and Honorary president of RTSA Association of Karnataka and YTSK Association of Karnataka , and Patron of Prajashakthi State level social service organization and helping SC ST people in the state like BBMP Poura Karmikara makkala kshemabhivruddhi Sangaha and Bangalore Mahanagar Palike S C Workers co-op society Ltd and "BBMP Poura Karmikara sangha and Arogya Gangman Gala Sangha" and educational organaisation like AIUPASA and served the party sincerely in all elections and rendered service to the party at all levels has requested Smt. Sonia Gandhi, AICC President after meeting her in New Delhi to consider his request and make him one of the party candidate for forth coming Karnataka Legislative Council elections to be held on 10th June 2016. Mr M.S. Rajsheshkar even helped Smt. Gandhi by gathering legal content in respect of Herald case from experts and sent the content and material to Smt Gandhi and Oscar Fernandez to help prepare for winning the case which is pending in court. Mr M.S. Rajsheshkar most loyal and trusted congressmen.

No failure is permanent, says Sonia: If one sticks to principles, no failure is permanent: this was Sonia Gandhi's message to Congress, barely two days after the party was thrown out of office in Assam and Kerala. Addressing the party on Rajiv Gandhi's death anniversary, she said, "We will have to follow his values of simplicity, modernity , harmony and sensitivity ... India is walking with its head held high in the world due to the steps taken by him". "We will have to follow his values of simplicity, modernity, harmony and sensitivity. That will be our true homage to him. Only then we will be able to say that Rajiv is in us. "She also lauded the late PM for his contributions in giving the youth the right to franchise, devolution of powers to panchayaths and bringing in a revolution in telecom and communication."India is walking with its head held high in the world due to the steps taken by him," she said adding that the changes that led to the gains that are visible in society, economy and politics were started by Rajiv Gandhi "which we talk about loudly today ."The Congress has emerged as the main Opposition party in West Bengal and Kerala. In fact, it won in Puducherry. Therefore, there is no reason for the BJP to be euphoric, except in Assam.

Democracy is technical Majority and not peoples Majority: Few get votes and few get seats: All political parties need to understand basics of Indian Politics. It is pertinent to note that majority voters are with opposition parties. Few get votes and few gets seats .Some time BJP got seats to form the central government by securing 34 percent vote and 66 percent votes were secured by opposition parties but they failed to get the seats .It is only technical majority and not the peoples majority .First the opposition parties must thank their voters. Both the ruling party and opposition parties have to fulfill their duties as per constitution of India towards welfare of the people.

Janata Dal, Samajwadi Party, DMK, TDP, AGP, All India Indira Congress (Tiwari), four Left parties, Tamil Maanila Congress, National Conference and Maharashtrawadi Gomantak Party had established the 13-party United Front, which had formed the government. In the past "There is already a lot of disgruntlement with the Modi government's policies, including demonetisation. We have to see how this disenchantment is channelised to ensure that an alternative secular combination emerges, It is pointed out that the BJP was in power now with "only 31 per cent votes. Adding the votes polled by its allies, the tally only goes up to little over 37 per cent. That means, 62 -63 per cent of the people have voted against them."There is already a lot of disgruntlement with the Modi government's policies, including demonetisation. Congress have to see how this disenchantment is channelised to ensure that an alternative secular combination emerges."The BJP by too much publishing congress mukta Bhrat it is actually making free publicity to congress making it more powerful than ever as BJP has just contounned congress government schemes with repackaged names and people cannot be fooled by speeches by BJP stalwarts says a political expert .

India is biggest democracy in the world and has multiparty election system. Our election is based on secret ballot system and based on multiparty systems .For one seat many parties and independent candidates contest election and the one who gets highest will get elected .It is all about master planning to win the seats .Every seat winning needs different strategy. As reported in news papers many parties got votes and did not get seats .Parties like DMK in TN, left in bengal, AAP in Delhi did not benefit from a significant vote share.At the national level, the story of votes (not seats) obtained by various parties and alliances is fairly straightforward. BJP and its allies got about 38% votes, Congress and its allies got 23%, the four major regional outfits -SP, BSP, Trinamool and AIADMK -got about 14% votes together, and the Left got about 5%.One of the biggest surprises of this election was that no candidate of the Mayawati-led Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) won in Uttar Pradesh, which is BSP's stronghold, though it managed a creditable 20% of votes. In the outgoing Lok Sabha, it had 21 members. There are other states where a similar anomaly can be seen. In West Bengal, the Left got nearly 30% votes but had to be satisfied with just 2 seats. In Tamil Nadu, DMK and its small party allies garnered 27% votes and got no seats. In Odisha, Congress got 26% votes but no seat while the BJP got 22% and just one seat. But there is another factor to be kept in mind: the wave. In most of these states where parties with lots of votes have gone with less (or no) seats, there is one party which is getting bulk of the votes. In Tamil Nadu and in Odisha, the winning party -

AIADMK and Biju Janata Dal respectively -got an overwhelming 44% of votes.So, even if you get 25% votes you lose badly. In West Bengal, Mamata's Trinamool Congress got nearly 40% votes, outstripping its main challenger the Left front. But what explains the four seats captured by Congress getting just 10% votes. That's because these votes were gained in a concentrated belt of north central Bengal, and gave Congress an edge over others in that region. Elsewhere it was wiped out. Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) may not have performed well considering that it was much hyped in the media and had put up over 400 candidates across the country . But its y performance in two states, Delhi and Punjab, is creditae ble. In Delhi it got 33% votes, improving upon its vote share from last December's state assembly elections when it had got about 28% s votes. It lost out decisively to BJP this time round because ) BJP itself improved its vote l share to over 46%, from 33% in December.d In Punjab, AAP got nearly s 25% votes, and managed to s get four members in the Lok Sabha. This, despite the fact, that the BJP-Akali alliance got about 35% votes and the resurgent Congress 33%. In this genuinely triangular contest, everybody walked away with a few seats.

UPA government had given you RTI Act : Use It optimally :All opposition parties should use RTI optimally .Let they create booth wise RTI activists among their members or cadets and give them training and set of questions and gather that booth level information to perform better as opposition parties .Prime Minister should listen to opposition parties as they are voice of 66% voters. All responsible citizens should send RTI Question to each MP and each Minister and Prime Minister and get to know every day what they are doing and what they are performing and keep check on their performances and give them clear indication that India is awakened and want responsible Government which listens citizens.

THE RIGHT TO INFORMATION ACT, 2005 is an Act to provide for setting out the practical regime of right to information for citizens to secure access to information under the control of public authorities, in order to promote transparency and accountability in the working of every public authority. RTI Act provides transparency under Section 3 and 4(1) (a) (b) (c) and 2(f) of RTI Act 2005 and accountability under 4(1) (d) RTI Act 2005 as the PA will create information; or to interpret information; or to solve the problems raised by the applicants under the system and procedure as per listed Acts and rules regulations listed under 4(1) (a) (b) (c) every day and that can be cross checked by applicant by asking reasons under 4(1) (d) by the affected person and copy of the same can be given to any applicant under 2(f) of RTI Act .

RTI is a total problem solving mechanism and not just record providing tool. RTI will provide transparency under 4(1) (a) (b) (c) and 2(f) of RTI Act 2005 every day and Accountability can be ensured under 4(1) (d) and this will reduce the corruption in every public authority . RTI Act is an Act to provide for setting out the practical regime of right to information for citizens to secure access to information under the control of public authorities, in order to promote transparency and accountability in the working of every public authority. The information under RTI Act is defined in, Section 2(f) of the RTI Act, which defines "information" provides as follows:- Definitions.- In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,- .(f) "information" means any material in any form, including records, documents, memos, e- mails, opinions, advices, press releases, circulars, orders, logbooks, contracts, reports, papers, samples, models, data material held in any electronic form and information relating to any private body which can be accessed by a public authority under any other law for the time being in force;"

This act can be called as the "law of transparency and accountability" which acts as the citizen's weapon to question and get information related to the government's functioning so that they can analyze its performance, and act accordingly. Limiting RTI Act to 2(f) is illegal as "information" is not created in "Paraloka" or "Swargaloka" or in "CIC " as it is created under 4(1) (a) (b) (c) (d) of RTI Act. RTI, Act is one of the few weapons the common man has in his fight against the high and mighty, citizens have unlimited powers under RTI Act 2005

CIC must understand that "information" is not created in "Paraloka" or "Swargaloka" or in "CIC " or "SIC " which will be given by PA under Section 2(f) of the RTI Act as it is created under 4(1) (a) (b) (c) (d) of RTI Act every day and given under Section 2(f) of the RTI Act .It is PA which creates the information every day 4(1) (a) (b) (c) and the "information" in any form, including records, documents, memos, e- mails, opinions, advices, press releases, circulars, orders, logbooks, contracts, reports, papers, samples, models, data material held in any electronic form need to be created as per 4(1) (a) (b) (c) reasons under 4(1) (d) by the affected person and copy of the same can be given to any applicant under 2(f) of RTI Act .The PA should be forced to function and create information strictly as per under 4(1) (a) (b) (c) on the applications and request of public and provide it under 2(f) of RTI Act and information should not be incomplete misleading and false and public is free to check accountability under 4(1) (d) RTI Act 2005.

The Right to Information (RTI) Act is one of the most important tools that can empower the common man, it had become imperative to fight against corruption for the effective functioning of the three pillars of democracy — legislature, executive and judiciary. The three pillars of democracy had been included in the ambit of the RTI Act and people should make use of the provisions of the Act to bring down corruption. There was a need to create awareness among people on the wide range of powers enshrined in the RTI Act. The educated sections of society must take active part in the fight against injustice and use the provisions of the RTI Act to protect the rights of the people.

Politicians need to attend weddings, funerals with eye on votes according to a political analyst : When US presidential hopeful Hillary Rodham Clinton was asked on TV some time ago what gift she and her husband Bill gave Donald Trump at his wedding in 2005, she replied: "Nothing." The former secretary of state explained that Trump was a Democrat before he became a Republican, and that her "presence was the gift". That's what our elected representatives, too, seem to be doing. Be it a member of Parliament or the legislature or one even in the making attending a minimum of five weddings a day during the marriage season is a given. Blessing newlyweds, offering condolences at funerals and gracing house warming functions or other rituals in their constituencies are must-dos for Karnataka's elected representatives. At weddings of our constituents or well wishers, leaders can meet 1,000 to 2,000 people at one place. Last week, energy minister D.K. Shivakumar , was criss-crossing Bengaluru, as he had 20 weddings lined up that day. "It is a 5-10 minute stop at one place and if a minister reaches a place around lunch time, he will stay for it," his aide said. According to Kumaraswamy's staff, there are days when he goes from Koramangala to Peenya to Ramanagaram - that's one end of the city to another and back. How invitations are sent : "All invitations are routed through the leaders PAs or secretaries. Of the entire bunch, the invitations are prioritized in consultation with the leader. If there are 10-15 weddings lined up in a day , a route map is drawn up for the wedding journey," a Congress functionary said. "Congress need to rework and re look for long term goals and not looking for only short-term goals. Congress party is deep rooted and they are working to turn the popularity of UPA schemes make fresh membership drive and infused young blood. The objective is to consolidate the party's dominance and extend it from Parliament to panchayats across India.
